

GOING ON A HOLIDAY

PROBLEM STATEMENT

Going on a Holiday

Planning and experiencing a holiday can often be stressful due to various challenges, such as budgeting constraints, lack of proper travel planning, misaligned group activities, communication barriers with locals, and limited access to reliable information about destinations.

These issues can lead to dissatisfaction and prevent individuals or groups from fully enjoying their holiday experience.

There is a need for a holistic solution that simplifies holiday planning, bridges communication gaps, aligns diverse interests, and provides seamless access to resources and support, enabling travelers to have stress-free and fulfilling holiday experiences.
